

Gale Force Winds

You silly little girl, you think you know what life is all about
You're going to make your fuss, you're going to scream and shout
You stick your head around every now again
You try to hose us down, but then you call us friends

The gale force winds are going to scream and shout
The gale force winds are really gonna blow you out
The gale force winds they are blowing from way down south
The gale force winds are really gonna blow you out

It started way back when, when he saw something in you
He said she's got something special she do exactly what we do
So he brought her around for a week or two
And then we found out the hard way what she really do

The gale force winds are going to scream and shout
The gale force winds are really gonna blow you out
The gale force winds they are blowing from way down south
The gale force winds are really gonna blow you out

She's got another one of us caught in her game,
She's going to drag him down, and put him to shame
This silly boy, oh he just can't break free
From her wicked traps and chicanery

The gale force winds are going to scream and shout
The gale force winds are really gonna blow you out
The gale force winds they are blowing from way down south
The gale force winds are really gonna blow you out
